

Negotiation Skills Session

The Supplier and Merchandising Sector has a wealth of opportunity to offer and it shouldn't be construction's best kept secret!

We want to support young people to uncover hidden roles and inspire them about aspirational careers in our sector.

Session information:

- 50–60 minute dynamic school engagement session introducing young people to the power of negotiation skills and their essential place within the working world
- Students develop their own negotiation skills through a series of roleplay scenarios supported by industry professionals from the Supplier and Merchandising Sector

What we ask of industry partners and professionals:

- To provide relatable role models to take part in sessions and inspire students about the incredible opportunities open to them
- To share your experience and answer incoming questions about careers in the Supplier and Merchandising sector!
- To attend in-person

To find out more contact: charlotte.kirkbride@constructionyouth.org.uk

